ABOUT THE TCS TORONTO WATERFRONT MARATHON

The TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon is Canada's premier running event and the grand finale of the Canada Running Series (CRS). Since 2017, the race has served as the Athletics Canada national marathon championship race and has doubled as an Olympic qualifier. It is set to be Canada's largest marathon. Using innovation and organization as guiding principles, Canada Running Series stages great experiences for runners of all levels, from Canadian Olympians to recreational and charity runners. With a mission of "building community through the sport of running," CRS is committed to making sport part of sustainable communities and the city-building process.

KEY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

1. Who are the organizers and sponsors of the marathon weekend?

The TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon is organized by Canada Running Series, the nation's premier running circuit. Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) is the sponsor of the TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon. Additional sponsor information can be found at www.torontowaterfrontmarathon.com.

2. What is the overall schedule and agenda for the marathon weekend and related events?

This year, the 5K event takes place on Saturday, October 18, while the half marathon and marathon take place on Sunday, October 19. The complete 2025 TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon race weekend schedule can be found here.

3. Where is the new start line located?

The 2025 TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon will feature a new start line on Yonge Street near Elm Street (South of Gerrard St.), in the heart of downtown Toronto. This central location provides improved access for participants, spectators, and media, as well as enhanced viewing opportunities along the first stretch of the course.

4. How can participants and media access the start line area?

The start line on Yonge Street near Elm Street is easily accessible by foot or public transit. However, participants and spectators are encouraged to plan ahead:

- Road closures will be in effect throughout the downtown core beginning early Sunday morning.
- TTC subway service begins at 8:00 a.m. on Sundays, so those arriving earlier should consider walking, cycling, carpooling, or arranging alternative transportation.
- Please allow additional travel time and consult the official road closure map for details and access routes.

Media Access Information:

- Media can access the start line via the north end of the start chute, on Yonge St., just south of Gerrard St.
- Media accreditation is required for access. If you do not have accreditation, this can be coordinated on site.
- Once inside the chute, proceed along the fence to the Media Zone (on the northeast side of the start line).
- Please remain within the Media Zone unless escorted by race management staff.
- All media must be in the start area by 7:30 a.m. and within the fenced Media Zone by 7:50 a.m. no access will be allowed after that time.
- The race will start in waves, with approximately five minutes between each wave, during which you may exit the chute. You will only be allowed to exit when permitted by race management.

5. Where can media pick up their accreditation on race day?

Media accreditation may be picked up at Nathan Phillips Square (VIP Tent, southwest corner), 100 Queen St. W., Toronto, or near the new start line on Yonge St., near Elm St. It is approximately a 10-minute walk from Nathan Phillips Square to the start line. Media are encouraged to pick up credentials early to allow time to reach the start area.

6. Are there any special causes associated with the TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon?

The TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon offers the unique opportunity for participants to customize their race experience by fundraising for a cause close to their heart through the TCS Charity Challenge. The 2025 TCS Charity Challenge includes 167 official charity partners for participants to choose from, and has raised over $55 million for charity since its inception in 2003.

7. Are there any records or achievements the marathon is hoping to set or break this year?

In addition to race records that may be set on the course, this year, 18 participants are Guinness World Record hopefuls.

Several notable achievements have already been made by the TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon this year, including:

- This year is the 36th edition of the TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon, marking 36 years of history for the landmark Toronto event.
- This year's participation is record breaking, with registration for the marathon and half marathon selling out over three months before race day.
- The TCS Toronto Waterfront Marathon is one of a select few marathons in the world to be awarded an Evergreen Certification from the Council for Responsible Sport in recognition of its outstanding sustainability initiatives.
